At Pistor, we are aware of the responsibility we bear for sustainable development. We are committed to ensuring that our business processes are ecologically compatible, socially just and economically viable. This awareness guides us in all our decisions and activities.

In a constantly changing world, dynamism is crucial for success and growth. At Pistor, we strive for continuous improvement and adaptation to new challenges. This dynamism shapes our commitment to sustainability right through to our supply chains.

We regard our suppliers, customers and service providers as valuable partners. For us, partnership means working together on sustainable and innovative solutions that ensure our joint long-term success. A strong partnership is based on mutual respect and trust.

Transparency and integrity are important to us in order to ensure open communication and reliable cooperation.

Reliability is a cornerstone of our business. We set the highest standards in terms of quality, adherence to deadlines and a sense of responsibility. Sustainability is central to this: We are committed to ecological, social and economic sustainability and expect the same from our partners.
